1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

None of the prior art of record either taken alone or taken in any possible combination would anticipate or would tend to render obvious Applicant's method as set forth in independent claim 1 that is particularly characterized at least by the claimed method step of "sampling one or more fast-moving surface displacement waves from a plurality of moving platform positions utilizing a plurality of pulses from an electromagnetic radiation source and at least one antenna" (lines 2-4) taken in the overall context of independent claim 1.

Dependent claims 2-16 are allowable for at least the reasons for which independent claim 1 is allowable.

None of the prior art of record either taken alone or taken in any possible combination would anticipate or would tend to render obvious Applicant's method as set forth in independent claim 17 that is particularly characterized at least by the claimed method steps of "producing an offset phase center having a time lag t_{lag} " (line 5) and "subtracting a phase difference having a time lag t_{lag} to produce a phase differential at each of said platform positions" (lines 6-7) taken together and taken in the overall context of independent claim 17.

Dependent claims 18-29 are allowable for at least the reasons for which independent claim 17 is allowable.

None of the prior art of record either taken alone or taken in any possible combination would anticipate or would tend to render obvious Applicant's method as set forth in independent claim 30 that is particularly characterized at least by the claimed
